David Bott, Area Manager NAO - DNID met with me in my office. He asked if I had any interest in selling. I told him no, unless it's enough that I could retire, maybe $5,000,000, which I know doesn't make economic sense for GM.

-- He started out by telling me that it was no secret about San Fernando Valley. He told me that the situation with Bob Gee was just a coincidence.
-- He asked if I would consider running Corvallis store, which I said "No, I don't want to live there."

-- I told him I was established in the community here and liked it here
-- He asked if there were any place else I would consider taking if GM had something available, which he said he didn't. I told him that I like the Bay Area, and feel that I am currently in the best place. I told him if they had something interesting in the Bay Area or LA and paid me enough to make the change I would consider it.

-- I told him I would consider taking the Pontiac store and realigning if I had both. He told me that wasn't what he came to discuss.
