Ann -

Just a quick note to touch base. You will recall our telephone conversation on November 9 in which I suggested we get started on arranging for mediation in order to meet my December 15 target. You said that you had reconsidered after our October 4 meeting, and felt that mediation may not be the best course, and that a meeting between you, Deb Collins, and me would be a better method. You indicated that you would be meeting with GM senior management the week of November 27, then would contact me the week of December 4.

Since the week of December 4 has now passed and December 15 is only days away, there is little time left. Additionally, the GM Christmas shutdown is nearing rapidly. When I met with Deb Collins on November 21 I stressed to her that I didn't intend to extend my offer beyond the 15th, other than to possibly Monday the 18th if you requested. So, at the risk of sounding like a GM incentive program disclaimer, I wish to make it clear that December 18 is the last day.

Ann, I appreciate the efforts that you and Deb have put forth on this project. As I'm sure you know, at the Enclave reveal on November 28, Susan Docherty told me she was working with you and Deb on it as well. And the fact that you have involved senior management certainly attests to your dedication towards achieving a resolution. It is all greatly appreciated.

It is my sincerest hope that your efforts of nearly 2 1/2 months will result in a final resolution by December 18.
