Re: Don Signer Buick-Cadillac, Inc. v. General Motors Corp.

Dear [REDACTED]

Jason Jakovich and several other GM executives recently received a communication from Mr. Signer which addresses matters that directly relate to the pending litigation. I know you understand that it would be inappropriate for GM to respond to this communication other than through legal counsel, and I would appreciate it if you would ask Mr. Signer to refrain from further direct communications with GM employees concerning the matters addressed in this communication and any other matters that directly relate to the claims or defenses asserted in the lawsuit.

In response to the letter, please note that (again, for reasons which I believe you understand) GM does not discuss its business relationship with its dealers with other dealers. It therefore would be inappropriate for me to make any response to Mr. Signer's statements or questions concerning the Pontiac-GMC dealership.

Very Truly Yours,

[REDACTED]
